SAW PIONEER LIFE IN IOWA

MR. AND MRS. J. S. THOMPSON THERE IN EARLY DAYS.

WED 61 YEARS TODAY

Maryville Resident Recalls Time When Hogs Were Driven 90 Miles to Market.

"Business as usual" was the motto today at 1119 North Mulberry street, where Mr. and Mrs. John S. Thompson are observing their sixty-first wedding aaniversary.

If it had not been for a representative of the Democrat-Forum and Tribune, Mrs. Thompson would not have remembered the day at all. At any rate, she said she wouldn't have remembered it.

As for Mr. Thompson, he was found in the back yard, vigorously pushing a lawnmower in an attempt to get ahead of the grass which has grown so prolifically as the result of recent rains.

A little later in the morning, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were joined by their two married daughters, and they agreed to "knock off" work long enough to do justice to a fried chicken dinner.

Married at Centerville, Ia.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were born in Indiana, but they were married at Centerville, Ia. Mr. Thompson will be 83 years old on December 7, and Mrs. Thompson will be 80 on January 25.

In a covered wagon, Mrs. Thompson, then Rebecca Silknitter, came from Indiana to Iowa with her family when she was 6 years old. The prairie schooner made the Mississippi river crossing by ferry boat, and continued inward from Keokuk to the then virgin country about the settlement of Centerville. The Silknitter family consisted then of the parents and five children.

It was about the same time that Mr. Thompson "came west" from Bartholomew County, Indiana, but his family, composed of his parents and his four brothers and sisters, came down the Ohio river on a boat from Fort Madison, Ind., and then up the Mississippi to Keokuk. The two families settled on farms about two miles apart.

The Silknitters and the Thompsons, with a few other families, "entered" land at the government office, built crude log houses, broke the prairie, fenced it, carried water from running streams. In these surroundings the young John Thompson and Rebecca Silknitter grew up, attending a log schoolhouse a few weeks in the year, but for the most part helping their parents, he with the farming and she with the spinning and other household tasks.

Schoolhouse of Logs.

The schoolhouse not only was of logs, but the seats were made of split logs, and there was a puncheon floor in which rags were stuffed to keep out the snakes. School lasted only three months a year, but there sometimes was a summer school for the smaller children, maintained by subscription.

On September 9, 1865, at the close, as Mrs. Thompson puts it, of the "Lincoln war," the youth, then 21, and the girl, 18, went to Centerville and were married at the courthouse by "Squire" Tannehill. Ministers in those days were few and far between. Their honeymoon was a visit to a Dunkard church, not far from Centerville, to see the "foot washing."

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson went to housekeeping on a farm a mile from the former's father. They remained there until shortly after the close of the war, when they moved to Ray County, Missouri, near Lexington. In the fall of 1869, all the Thompsons moved to Nodaway County settling east of Quitman. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson still own the farm of 240 acres on which they lived then. They left the farm twenty-three years ago and moved to Maryville, Mr. Thompson building the home on Mulberry street where they celebrated today.

Stock Driven Ninety Miles.

In the early days in Iowa, Mr. Thompson's father, John Thompson, was a stock buyer and shipper. He bought hundreds of cattle, sheep or hogs and drove them ninety miles across country to Alexandria, Mo., where they were loaded on river boats and taken on to market. Later the railroad came as far as Ottumwa, Ia., and the stock had to be driven only

Temperature Is 50; Rainfall .13 Inch

The temperature this morning was 50, according to C. E. Wells, acting official weather observes. The rainfall since yesterday morning measured .13 of an inch.

Streams in various parts of the county, reported rising again yesterday as the result of heavy rains the night before, were subsiding today. At the Maryville pumping station, the 102 river, after climbing to the 16-foot mark at 10 o'clock last night, had fallen a foot and three inches this afternoon. The normal is about six feet.

FARM BILL TO BE UP AGAIN

COMING CONGRESS TO REVIVE OLD MEASURE.

BUT LITTLE CHANGE

But Friends Of Agriculture Relief Hope To Lay Groundwork For Session Opening March 4.

Washington, Sept. 9.—An effort will be made at the coming session of Congress to revive the McNary-Haugen farm price stabilization bill, farm leaders here have indicated.

The bill which many farm organizations believe to be of such vital necessity to agriculture, was defeated both in the House and in the Senate by narrow margins during the last session after a stubborn fight.

While it is believed the measure would have little chance in the coming session, those who sponsored it intend to lay the groundwork at that time for possible passage of the bill when the new congress which is to be chosen in November, takes office March 4. They believe now that the new congress may be more favorable to the measure.

There is some talk of attempting to exert influence upon President Coolidge to call a special session of the new congress to fight out the farm problem definitely and conclusively. It is realized that in the coming short session there seems little chance of wedging any agriculture bills into the jam and most Senators from farm states believe the best course would be to devote the summer of 1927 to the question.

Only three minor farm measures to correct defects in the present credits systems are on the Senate calendar for action at the December session and even though they are adopted, as is expected, they pretend to offer no comprehensive relief for the general agricultural situation.

Besides these there is pending in the Senate the agriculture department measure appropriating funds to provide an extensive system for dissemination of crop information to be of help to farmers. It was this bill to which the McNarry-Haugen bill was an amendment, but when the latter measure was defeated no effort was made to press the original bill which was considered of less importance. It is expected, however, to be adopted at the coming session.

Members of the farm bloc may reintroduce a revised form of the McNary-Haugen bill as an amendment and undoubtedly an effort will be made to such action, but it is doubtful whether any full discussion of the farm situation may develop.

Flood Waters Taking Big Toll in Indiana

Wabash and White River Valleys Inundated and Highways and Railroad Beds Are Washed Out.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 9.—Born in a semi-tropical rain storm that deluged central and western Indiana last night and early today, with downfalls ranging from two and seven and a half inches, swelled flood waters swelled by the White River and its tributaries were rushing down the White River valley today, spreading over lowlands, washing out highways, railroad beds and bridges and bringing ruin to many promising crops and livestock herds.

To the west, the broad Wabash and its feeders were also running bank full and rising higher every hour. All up and down the White and Wabash valleys, the flood alarm was ringing this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crawford of Wilcox motored to Bethany today to attend the Northwest Missouri State Fair.

CHURCH MEET MAY BE HERE

MARYVILLE MAY OBTAIN M. E. CONFERENCE.

JAMES TO CONFERENCE

Minister of First M. E. Church Here To Annual Meeting At Stanberry Next Week.

Dr. C. C. James, pastor of the First M. E. Church, will leave next Tuesday for Stanberry to attend the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to be held there from Sept. 15 to 19. Bishop F. D. Leete of Indianapolis, Ind., will preside at the conference.

An invitation to hold the 1927 conference in Maryville will be extended by Dr. James. Several from Maryville are expected to attend some of the sessions of the conference.

The official board of the First M. E. Church here has requested that Dr James be returned to this church. He has been pastor here four years and the church has made rapid progress during that time. During his pastorate, the church building has been completely remodeled with an addition built at an expense of $50,000 until today it is one of the finest churches in this conference.

The term of the Rev. E. B. Thompson, district superintendent of the St. Joseph district of the conference, will expire at next week's meeting. The law of the denomination requires that a minister can serve as a district superintendent only six out of twelve years in the conference. Although the Rev. Mr. Thompson has been district superintendent of the St. Joseph district only two years, his six years as usperintendent has been completed. He was district superintendent of the old Maryville district for one year and for the Cameron district, three years. The Rev. Mr. Thompson will be appointed as pastor of a church in the conference.

It is rumored that some change in appointment will be made which will affect the Maryville church but there has been nothing officially as the appointments will not be announced until near the close of the meeting at Stanberry.

The district superintendents will give reports of the conditions and opportunities and growth of the Methodist Episcopal Church in territories where they reside at this conference.

Eminent clergymen and officials from the General Boards will discuss the program of the World Service Commission as it effects the work of the Board of Foreign Missions, the Board of Home Missions and the other missionary and benevolent programs of the church.

It is expected that the bishop will read the appointments of the ministers to the various pastorates on Sunday evening. The presiding bishop will ordain deacons and elders and consecrate deaconesses at the Sunday services.

In the Missouri Conference there are 32,001 full members not including nonresident inactive members, 33,799 Sunday school scholars, teachers and officers, there are 242 church buildings with a property value of $1,781,250 and 115 parsonages with a property value of $346,575.

Literary Society Elected Officers

George Hall Named President of Claytonians At High School This Morning.

George Hall was elected president of the Claytonian Literary Society of the Maryville High School at an organization meeting of that society this morning.

Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Cornelius Stilwell; Secretary, Baris Phipps; Treasurer, Lauren Yeo; sergent-of-arms, Kenneth Swinford.

Miss Laura B. Hawkins is sponsor of the society having been the advisor of that group since its organization in 1923.

Butler Man Named as Clerk's Deputy

Jefferson City, Sept. 9.—Guy E. Silvers, of Butler, today was appointed deputy clerk of the Supreme Court to succeed the late Robert W. Morrow. He was appointed by Jacob Allen, clerk of the court. Silvers, a Democrat, was formerly connected with the office.

Report That Miss Kansas City Will Win Beauty Prize

Atlantic City, Sept. 9.—A rumor lacking confirmation went around the hotels and board walk here that Miss Kansas City was to win the beauty contest and be adjudged the Miss America this year.

Where the rumor came from remains a mystery but when it became generally circulated the other contestants from all over the nation had fire in their eyes. There was considerable talk among them of pre-judging and discrimination.

SAYS ALL U. S. IS PROSPEROUS

REPRESENTATIVE TILSON REPLIES TO OLDFIELD.

HE CHIDES DEMOCRATS

Republican Campaign Manager Assails Opponents and Outlines Program for Coming Congress.

White Pines Camp, N. Y., Sept. 9.—"The Democrats are reverting to form and beginning an attack on business," said Representative John C. Tilson of Connecticut, in charge of Republican Congressional campaign headquarters for the East, after conferring with President Coolidge today.

Calling attention to the statement of Representative Oldfield of Arkansas, campaign leader for the Democrats, that about twenty thousand persons are getting most of the advantages of prosperity, Tilson continued:

"I think our opponents are resorting to the old Democratic attack on business. Under the guise of hitting at big business, they really are making an attack on all business. I feel that prosperity is widely distributed and is being made an issue in this campaign because it is a fact and we are simply facing the facts as we find them."

Tilson said the short session of Congress would devote itself to the appropriation measures and unfinished work of the last session, but indicated there was little possibility of passing any new farm relief bill next winter.

Federal Highway Markers Erected

Number 71 Of The Federal Highway System Being Marked By Crew From Jefferson City.

Markers for Federal Highway Number 71 were erected in Maryville today by Herbert Elliot and a crew of three men working out of the offices of the Missouri State Highway Department at Jefferson City. Signs showing the direction and number of miles to other places, both on the federal road and on the state highways, also were erected, but at the order of Mayor W. O. Garrett they were removed from the White Way poles.

However, after several business men had asked that the federal signs be allowed to hang from the poles, Mr. Elliott's crew put these markers back in place. Maryville is the first city in Missouri to object to the erection of the signs he said.

Stop signs, placed at points where state and less important roads crossed the Federal Highway No. 71 were erected several days ago by men working out of the division offices in St. Joseph.

Trail markers have been placed along state highway No. 27 from St. Joseph to Maryville and other markers are being placed between Maryville and the Iowa line. Highway No. 71 goes out of Maryville on state highway Number 18 to a point about two miles east of Burlington Junction and from there goes north to Iowa on the old Itasca Park Highway. Although the state highway department has not been maintaining the road from the place where it leaves Number 18 to the Iowa line, Mr. Elliott today said that the Federal markers would be placed on that 11-mile stretch.

Returns From Rock Port.

Judge John M. Dawson returned today from Rock Port where he has been holding the Atchison County circuit court. Judge Dawson will go to Albany Monday to convene the regular term of the Gentry County circuit court.

TWO YOUTHS ARE INDICTED

BEDFORD GRAND JURY HOLDS HAL HOWARD, TERRANCE LUTON.

DEATH TO BE ASKED

County Attorney Says Youth Of Defendants Will Not Evade Penalty For Alleged Murder.

Bedford, Ia., Sept. 9.—Indicted late yesterday by the Taylor county grand jury, Hal Howard, 15, of Kent, Ia., and Terrance Luton, 17, of St. Joseph, are held in the county jail here without bond, pending formal arraignment at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The grand jury, which investigated the death of Pansy Turnbull, 17-year-old Diagonal, Ia., girl, charged the two youths with first degree murder and assault with intent to commit a statutory offense.

The grand jury's report automatically resulted in the release of three other men, John Gibbons, Creston, Ia., John Beach, Lenox, Ia., and John Howard, older brother of Hal.

Death In One Of Three Ways.

The indictment alleges that Miss Turnbull came to her death in one of three ways, either by the administration of chloral hydrate, or by a blow upon the head or by being thrown from the car.

The grand jury examined thirty-five witnesses, most of them from the vicinity of Clearfield and Diagonal, Ia.

James Lucas, Taylor county attorney, will be assisted in the prosecution by now of Des Moines. Flick was an as- Bruce Flick, a former Bedford attorney, sistant attorney-general of Iowa under Ben Gibson.

County Attorney Lucas said he will ask the death penalty in event the two men are convicted, saying that he would not be influenced by their apparent youthfulness.

"The attack was premeditated beyond doubt," Lucas said, "and they deserve to receive the fullest penalty exacted by law."

Attorney J. R. Locke, representing the two youths, said he will ask a speedy trial during the term of court, now in session, presided over by Judge H. H. Carter. Locke said he would try to have the two cases come to trial within a week, if it can possibly be aranged.

Review of Case.

The dead girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arizona Turnbull, both of whom testified before the Taylor County grand jury. She died a few hours after being found in a dazed condition at Clearfield. The girl was unable to make a statement before death.

A post mortem examination by Dean Teeters of the University of Iowa college of pharmacy disclosed traces of a drug used in "knockout drops" in the Turnbull girl's stomach. The coroner's jury which met at Diagonal, however, did not base its findings on these facts. The cause of death was attributed to a skull fracture, alleged to have been received when the girl jumped from the auto to protect her honor.

Howard and Luton have been under arrest since the day after Miss Turnbull died. The coroner's jury recommended that they be held to the grand jury without bond. Separate indictments against the pair were returned by the special grand jury.

William G. Shinabarger was appointed executor of the estate of Harriett Shinabarger, who died at Hopkins on August 30.

League Tranquility Is Again Threatened

Salvador Delegate Objects to "Steam Roller" Methods Used by Big Powers in Admitting Germany.

Geneva, Sept. 9.—The peaceful satisfaction of the League of Nations assembly over the settlement of the crisis regarding the condition of Germany's entry into the League was bestirred today by a voice of protest against the "steam roller" tactics adopted to bring about Germany's admission and the reorganization of the League Council. The objections to the methods adopted by the big powers, which was voiced yesterday and then stifled, was again renewed today by M. Guerrere, delegate from Salvador.

M. Guerrere charged that the big powers had imposed their will upon the smaller powers with ruthless demands.

"Our League," he said, "which has faced a great crisis since last March, now finds itself morally and materially weaker, especially morally."

G. O. P. LOSES NEXT SENATE

RECENT PRIMARIES WIPE OUT CONTROL.

COALITION TO RULE

Democrats and Insurgents Have Majority Irrespective of Results In November Election.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Coolidge administration, for all practical purposes, has already lost control of the next Senate.

There has been sufficient casualties among the regulars or stalwart Republicans in the primaries to date to insure a balance of power being held by insurgents with an outright control vested in a coalition of these insurgents with the Democrats whenever they care to combine and exercise it.

This will be true irrespective of whether the Democrats win a single seat north of the Mason and Dixon line in November and if there is any drift to the Democrats in northern states eight weeks hence, even the paper majority of the Republicans will disappear.

An analysis today of the primaries held thus far made these facts indisputable. The defeat of Lenroot in Wisconsin, despite his being singled out for personal endorsement by President Coolidge, was a particularly severe blow.

Nominally, the Republicans had fifty-five in the present senate, the Democrats forty and the Farmer-Labor one. But the G. O. P. list included Nye and Frazier of North Dakota, Norris of Nebraska and La Follette of Wisconsin, none of whom would attend a party caucas and who were openly hostile to the administration. Another La Follette senator from Wisconsin and Brookhart puts the regulars where they must deal either with the insurgents or the Democrats to get legislation through as things stand now, and the Republicans, it is conceded, will drop a few seats to the Democrats in November.

Senator McKinley Is Steadily Improving

Has Little Or No Temperature And His Respiration Difficulties Are Decreasing, Physician Announces.

Martinsville, Ind., Sept. 9.—United States Senator William B. McKinley, ill at the Home Lawn Sanitarium here, continued to show marked improvement today. He made renewed demands for solid food and persisted in it. He was permitted to have milk toast for breakfast. Dr. Robert H. Egbert, McKinley's personal physician, announced today that the patient had little or no temperature and that his respiration difficulties had decreased materially.

Chinese Government May Not Be Friendly

Washington, Sept. 9.—A radical Chinese government friendly to Russia and hostile to the U. S. and other powers is imminent in Peking unless some unexpected barrier stops the northward sweep of the Cantonese armies.

LEGION PARIS TRIP NOT SURE

CONDITIONS IN FRANCE CAUSE SPECULATION.

OPPOSITION GROWING

Anti-American Feeling Abroad Said To Be Responsible For Present Attitude of Legionnaires.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The proposed American Legion pilgrimage to the old stamping ground of the A. E. F. in Paris today had become a matter of serious discussion among Washington officials with the prospect that Legion officers will carry into the Philadelphia convention next month some disillusioning reports on the situation abroad.

Whether the Legionnaires, as envoys of good will, can overcome the anti-American feeling overseas is regarded by officials here as one of the most important questions the Legion has been called upon to answer. Under normal conditions, Washington officials would speed the Legion upon its way. Frank statements of many usually conservative citizens returning from Europe have, however, aroused more than ordinary skepticism in some quarters.

The imaginary appeal of American citizens descending upon Paris ten years after they entered the war, perhaps led by General Pershing again, is a thrill itself. However, opposition to the plan within the Legion has developed on the ground that a national convention could not be held abroad.

This opposition has been increased by recent developments. Although friends of General Pershing hold he would become national commander only if drafted for the post, it is declared he would not lead the Legion back to France, fearing the mission would be misunderstood.

Among the proposals advanced here is that the Legion await an official invitation from the French government. Another is that the entire matter be put in the hands of the Legion's national executive committee to be finally determined next spring in the light of new developments.

Although the Legion convention in Paris would not be held until October of next year, present plans are for completion of arrangements several months in advance.

Pittsburgh Hands Cub Hopes a Jolt

Pirates Take First Game of Today's Double-Header.—Chicago Leads In Second Game.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 9.—What, if any, hopes the Cubs had of rising beyond fourth place in the National League suffered a rude jolt here this afternoon when "Bullet Joe" Bush outpitched Percy Lee Jones, the League's leading left-hander, enabling the Pirates to win the first game of a scheduled double-header 2 to 1.

Bush limited Cub hits to six. Jones was fairly effective after the second when the Pirates scored the winning run, but gave way in the eighth to Osborn, who put in a hectic session but managed to survive without being scored upon.

Pittsburgh, 2-7-1; Cubs, 1-6-0.

The Cubs took an early lead in the second game when they scored single runs in both the first and second innings, and two in the fourth. Pittsburgh scored 1 in the 6th. Kaufmann started for Chicago, while Koupal was the Pittsburgh pitching choice, being replaced by Yde. At the end of the sixth, the Cubs had increased their lead to 4-1.

Move on to Abolish Italian Parliament

Rome, Sept. 9.—Abolition of the Italian parliament will be considered by the Italian government in October, it was learned today. The government, which has about completed the general reforms of administrative and labor legislation, will render a decision in the matter some time next month.

Weather

Generally fair and cooler today; Friday fair with rising temperature in northern part.

TOWN MUST HAVE UNITY.

No town can prosper unless its citizens are united in matters that pertain to the general welfare. Every man has his own ideas as to how public undertakings should be managed, but it is impossible for every one to have his own way. A town made up of individuals each of whom insists upon his own particular idea being adopted, is a town that can't prosper. With everyone pulling in a different direction, the load will not be carried very far, the town will not advance. The board-minded citizen is willing to make a few compromises with his fellow citizens, to surrender a few of his own pet ideas and fall in line with the ideas that represent the united best judgment of all. The unity necessary to success must be purchased even at the price of individual opinion.

SPEAKER POINTS OUT A NEED.

The suggestion of Mrs. Hugh Strong at the Twentieth Century Club meeting Tuesday for a city park and supervised play grounds is a timely one and should be carried out. Maryville needs a park with playgrounds badly.

Read again what Mrs. Strong had to say:

"The Stores of Maryville we are proud of. We have a hospital that is indeed a credit; a theater that is seldom found outside of the cities; a lovely Country Club; a Masonic building that is fine; and I know you all appreciate the clean, neatly furnished club room (Elks) we are meeting in today. We have plenty of recreational features for those who can pay the rather heavy fees incidental to their maintenance. But what are you doing for children and those who can not afford to pay dues? Can you afford not to have them enjoy a good, clean sports? What of your little children who have to use the streets for playgrounds with the popular pastime of missing the automobiles and drivers of cars taking chances of running over one of these little tots? Maryville does not have a city park where the children may go to play in the sand; where they can wade and sail boats. Where they can learn to play right. A park offering supervised play for Maryville children, that is one of the worth while things. Give the citizens of tomorrow an opportunity. The tired mother of this community also would welcome a place where her children might play in safety and give her a few hours rest.

"Don't you think this club as a whole should inform local officials that one hundred and fifty Maryville women want a park and supervised playgrounds!"

Line Party for Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Angell entertained with a line party last night at the new Missouri Theater in compliment to their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Garner, their daughters, Alta, Mildred, Mary and Eleanor, and son, Woodrow, of Proctor, W. Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Garner of Moundsville, W. Va.

Home and Community Club.

The Home and Community Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rile Carmichael. The members tacked two comforts for the hostess. The following members were present: Mrs. Letha Pence, Mrs. Jennie Sexson, Mrs. Alice Ritter, Mrs. Ethel Zook and Mrs. Irene Zook and baby son. Visitors at the meeting were Mrs. Pearl Carmichael and Mrs. Maud Henry. Mrs. John Carmichael will entertain the club Sept. 22.

Berean Class Officers.

Mrs. L. S. Yeo was re-elected president of the Berean Circle of the Christian Church at the monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lon Hughes, west of Maryville. Other officers for the ensuing year are: Mrs. P. R. Moore, vice-president; Mrs. Milton Butler, secretary; Mrs. W. E. Trueblood, assistant secretary; Mrs. Claude Stults, treasurer; and Miss Nina Bowman, press reporter. The meeting opened with singing of "More About Jesus," followed by prayer by Mrs. Hugh Strong and Mrs. T. J. Williams. Mrs. Yeo had charge of the business meeting at which reports of the different committees were given. Plans were made for a musical tea to be given soon. The meeting closed with the Lord's prayer. The assisting hostesses, Mrs. Arch Willhoyte, Mrs. Mayme Taylor and Mrs. Frank Hall, served refreshments during the social hour. Those present were Mrs. Frank Reavis, Mrs. Carl Murray, Mrs. L. S. Yeo, Mrs. Jesse Fisher, Mrs. James Whitehead, Mrs. D. A. Appleby, Mrs. Claude Stults, Mrs. Harry Lyle, Mrs. P. R. Moore, Mrs. T. J. Williams, Mrs. Howard Strong, Mrs. Elmer Swanson, Mrs. Milton Butler, Mrs. Hugh Strong and son, Charles, Mrs. Charles Eckert, Mrs. E. L. Wilson, Mrs. James Hantz, Miss Rose Frazee, Miss Roberta Willhoyte and Miss Wilma Hall.

Bridal Couple Visit Here.

A marriage of much interest to Maryville friends is that of Frank Mapel, younger son of the Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Mapel, former residents of Maryville but now living in Cowgill, Mo., and Miss Virginia Elizabeth Pollock of Kennett, Mo. The double ring ceremony, at which the bridegroom's father officiated, took place at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, South in St. Louis. The guests included only members of the two families and a few intimate friends. Mr. Mapel and his bride arrived in Maryville by motor car yesterday afternoon to be the guests for a few days of the former's brother, William L. Mapel, and Mrs. Mapel. En route to Kennett, Mo., where they will be at home after Sept. 15, Mr. and Mrs. Mapel will visit in Columbia and St. Louis. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pollock of Kennett and was educated at Central College, Lexington, Mo., and Stephens College, Columbia. Mr. Mapel was graduated from the Maryville High School in the class of 1921 and later attended the State Teachers College and the University of Missouri. He is connected with the Kennett Merchantile Company, holding an interest in the business.

The New Fall Hat Story

Many of the New Hats Have Stitched Crowns

The stitched crowns have the odds—velvet, velour, and felt hats have them, and so softly pliable that they may be draped to suit any face. Other hats have high crowns and narrow brims. Some there are which have helmet like drapings, or fulness drawn primly to the back of the crown. Brims are unbound and undulating, and these felts have bright ornaments by way of trim. Green, red, rose, and many shades of brown are present, but black, too, is exceedingly evident.

The Large Hat is Flattering

Becoming to the miss, and flattering to the older woman, large black velvet hats are claiming a place in the fall scheme of things. The softly draped or stitched crowns subscribe to the grosgrain or metal ribbon, or perchance, a gleaming ornament. Particularly striking are the velvet and felt combination hats—the brim of velvet, and the crown of felt.

An exceptional showing of the very newest creations at a price you'll like.

BAKER LAUDS MISSOURI

GOVERNOR POINTS OUT WAYS OF IMPROVING STATE.

EDUCATION BIG FACTOR

Home Newspaper Also Big Help In Developing Community, Tells St. Louis Audience.

St. Louis, Sept. 9.—Missouri no longer is the "show me" state, but the "show you" state, Gov. Sam A. Baker declared here yesterday afternoon in an address at the Greater St. Louis exposition, where he appeared with his staff as the principal speaker on a Missouri day program.

He declared: "I believe that every Missourian should be proud of the community in which he lives and of the state and should take every opportunity to speak of the advantages of his home state, and our great state, no longer the "show me" state, but the "show you" state."

Speaking of the development of the community and the things community organizations can do for it, he said:

"There are many things for a good live community and the things community organizations can do for it, he said:

"There are many things for a good live community organization to do. It will be active in the educational facilities of the community. Education costs money but it is worth every penny it costs. Ignorance costs far more and is not worth one penny. We speak of the wealth of a community and frequently gauge the strength of a community on its wealth. There are three factors to be considered in the wealth of community: Its natural resources, its physical resources and education.

Religion Necessary.

"Along with the industrial development of which we are so proud has come not only the growth of the schools but the growth and development of the church. All industrial, commercial, and intellectual activities must be under the light of the Gospel.

"Another great factor in the development of any community, town or city, is the newspaper. It is the home paper that rejoices with you in your achievements and condoles with you in your misfortunes.

"Of course, industrial development also is linked up closely with the development of agriculture. The farmer should not be neglected or disregarded in the schemes for community building.

"Here in St. Louis you take great pride in the number of people that you have. We all know that there are far more people depending on the city for a livelihood than the census directory shows as your total population. Any city is very much like a sponge. It will absorb people as long as there are industries to support them and the facilities for giving to the boys and girls the advantages they should have. The progress will be limited only by the wisdom and courage with which the people transform their ambitions into living realities.

Plea for Business.

"These principles mentioned for the growth of a city or town, in a great measure, apply to the state of Missouri, the most wonderful state of all. I believe we are approaching a new era in the development of our state. The wonderful progress of road building, bridge building and general advertising of Missouri along the lines that make for health, happiness and prosperity, is causing the people all aver the nation to begin to take an interest in our wonderful state. We want, first, of course to have our people take an interest in Missouri, then there will be no difficulty in selling her to the world."

He closed his address with a plea for "greater interest in this great business"—the science of government.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burch and daughter, Clara, of Clearmont returned last night from a two weeks' motor trip through Nebraska and the Dakotas. Mr. Burch has purchased seven cars of cattle to be shipped to his farm where they will be put in feed lots to fatten.

Alfred Walton is suffering from an infection in his right thumb. While cutting weeds about ten days ago his thumb was pricked by a gymsum weed. It has been necessary to lance the thumb two times.

Malcolm Hepburn of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. George Hepburn of Hopkins were visitors here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pfeiffer and Robert Jackson of Skidmore were Maryville visitors today.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gwinn and D. M. Pike of Bedison spent today in Maryville.

Gaugh & Evans

The elder Thompson took from 1,000 to 2,000 head of stock to market at a time, using about sixteen helpers. As the heavier hogs fell behind, they were separated and the faster ones were hurried along. Thus it happened that part of the convey frequently arrived several days ahead of the slower animals. Four miles was a good day's progress with the heavy hogs, Mr. Thompson said, and frequently some of them "broke down" and it was necessary to haul them ahead on a wagon, returning for others. Hogs then sold at $2.50 to $3. a hundred pounds.

One year, Mr. Thompson said, corn was scarce in Iowa, and his father drove more than 600 head of hogs to Eagleville, Mo., and fed them there for a time. Then they were started on to Chillicothe, the nearest railroad point in Missouri, but a storm commenced in which six feet of snow fell, and the men were kept busy rescuing the hogs from the huge drifts. Arriving at Chillicothe, they found that all trains had been stalled by the snow, and they continued driving the hogs along the railroad, hoping to come to a point where the trains were in operation. Failing in this, they drove them all the way to Quincy, Ill., and sold them there, the hogs weighing less then than when they were put on feed. In Chariton County, Missouri, Mr. Thompson said, his father had to stop and borrow money.

Snow Stays Until March.

The heavy snow remained on the ground, covering all the fences, and a heavy crust formed on it over which both men and animals walked until the following March, Mr. Thompson said.

Mr. Thompson has been a life long Democrat, and Mrs. Thompson votes the same way.

They have three children, Mrs. Austin King of Orrsburg; Mrs. J. D. Ford of Maryville and Harlan G. Thompson, Spokane, Wash. There are six grandchildren.

Of Mrs. Thompson's nine brothers and sisters, four brothers survive: John and Jacob Silknitter of Centerville, Ia.; Solomon Silknitter, Excelsior Springs, Mo.; and Hiram Silknitter, Rose Hill, Kan.

Mr. Thompson is the only surviving member of a family of six.

Circuit Riders Preach.

Religious services in the pioneer times were held only when a traveling preacher, a "circuit rider," came along, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson said. Then boys would mount horses and ride along the creek banks, near which most of the settlers' houses were located, and spread the news that there was to be preaching. These services were held in the various homes, usually in that of Mr. Thompson's father, as his house, built entirely of walnut, was the largest and finest in the county. It stood until a few years ago, and bid fair to stand for many years more, but was destroyed by fire.

On the farm near Quitman, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson built the first frame house in the vicinity, hauling the lumber from Savannah.

In contrast to this snowstorm, Mr. Thompson recalls great prairie fires in Iowa that cast so bright a glow that he could sit in his yard and read at night. Barriers were erected to protect the settlers' houses and farms.

Grain was not taken to market but was fed to stock or taken to the mill to be ground. The wool which Mrs. Thompson spun was sheared from the backs of their own sheep, washed, picked and carded. Some of the wool was taken to Bonaparte, a mill center on the Des Moines river, about sixty miles east of Centerville, and there was exchanged for cloth. Turkeys were driven forty miles to Ottumwa.

Mrs. Thompson does not have her spinning wheel, but she has a comfort made from pieces of the wool school dresses she wore as a child.

In the early days candles furnished their light, Mrs. Thompson said. She did not see a coal oil lamp until she was 16 years old, and Iowans were much afraid of this new invention for some time.

Miss Claire Davis left Monday night for Madison, S. Dak., to assume her work as critic teacher in the first grade of the State Normal School.

The VANITY CASE

NEA FICTION

© 1926 by G P PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

In Harbor Gardens, Long Island, in an elaborte bungalow, lived PERRY HEATH and his wife, MYRA.

At the time the story opens the Heaths were entertaining as house guests:

LAWRENCE INMAN, a distant relative of Myra's and, aside from Perry, the only heir to her considerable fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, young, vivacious, golden-haired, an old friend of Myra's.

Myra Heath was a peculiar woman. She was cold, sarcastic. She did not love her husband, but seemed enamored of Inman. She never used cosmetics or dressed in colors. In fact, her hatred of color amounted to a passion. She collected rare old bottles and her latest was a whisky bottle which she was quite proud of but which aroused her artistic husband to scorn.

There is a growing intimacy between Perry Heath and Bunny. Myra, becoming provoked, declares that she has made her will in favor of Inman, cutting Perry off.

That night, after Bunny and Inman retire, Myra Heath alludes mysteriously to Perry's "secret." When Perry goes to bed, Inman comes down stairs, and he and Myra are discovered in each other's arms later by Perry.

The next morning, Mrs. Prentiss, who lives next door, was telling her nephew, Todhunter Buck, of some mysterious lights she had seen the night before in the Heath bungalow. While they are talking a loud scream from the Heath home interrupts their conversation.

That night Perry Heath, stealing downstairs, discovers his wife in Inman's arms and orders the latter out of the house by morning.

The next day the body of Myra Heath is found in the studio by a servant. A candle is burning at her head and feet, there is a big cut in her head and, strangest of all, her face is made up with cosmetics and she is dressed in outlandish colors.

HERRICK, the butler, after calling the doctor, steals some money from a drawer near the body and then discovers, at Myra's feet, a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

To Herrick this carried no sinister suggestion, he merely thought the card had been dropped there, and was about to pick it up, when there seeped through his bewildered brain a vague memory that one should not touch things on the scene of a mysterious death.

THE AUTHOR

So he restrained his impulse to blow out the last feeble flickerings of the two candles, and, instead, raised the shades of the back windows to let in the day light.

The, putting his pocket with a soft sigh of satisfaction, he went out of the room, and sought the other servants.

He found them in the pantry, agog with excitement at the tales of Katie and Mrs. Pierce, but not daring to report for duty until summoned.

Herrick was unstrung himself, but kept his head, and assumed an extra dignity as he issued orders.

"No gossiping, now," he said; "Mrs. Pierce, you go on with getting the breakfast ready. We've no call to neglect our work. Carter, you go up to Miss Moore's room, and—and—well, you do the best you can. Tell the young lady that Mrs. Heath has—has—say, she's had an accident,—yes, that will do, an accident. And get Miss Moore to dress at once, for the doctor is coming and after that goodness knows what goings on there will have to be!"

"Oh,—I can't tell Miss Bunny!" Carter burst into sobs. "Poor Mrs. Heath—are you sure, Herrick, she's—dead? Let me see her."

"No, nobody, must go into that room till the doctor comes,—or Mr. Heath."

"Where is Mr. Heath?" exclaimed Carter.

"I don't know," Herrick said, slowly. "There's a lot to be learned yet. You go along, Carter, get Miss Bunny dressed and take up her breakfast. I'm at my wit's end! Nobody to boss—or, anything! Mr. Inman, he's all flabbergasted like,—I wish Mr. Heath would come back—wherever he's gone!"

Carter obeyed the orders of her superior, and taking a tray with coffee and rolls, started for Bunny's room.

But even as she tapped at the door, she heard the sound of wild sobbing within.

No summons bade her enter, and after another knock, Carter opened the door and went in.

Bunny was huddled in a forlorn heap in the middle of her bed, and was crying bitterly.

"There now, there now, Miss Bunny," Carter said, moved to pity at the sight of the girl's intense grief, "take a sup of coffee, do—"

With an air of bewilderment, Bunny looked up in the maid's face, and docilely took the cup she proffered.

As she swallowed, she looked over the rim of the cup at Carter.

"What is it?" she whispered. "What is all the excitement about?"

"Well, — Miss, — you see, Mrs. Heath, she —she isn't so well."

"Not well! Myra! What do you mean?"

"She's—she's had an accident, ma'am."

"Accident! What sort of accident?"

"She—" but Carter's powers of vague prevarication were limited, and she blurted out, "why, she's dead, ma'am."

"Dead!" said Bunny, not hysterically, but with an awed, dazed air, her intent gaze fixed on Carter's face.

"Yes, ma'am," the maid returned, ready, the Rubicorn crossed, to dilate on the subject.

"Dress me," Bunny said, almost sharply. "Never mind the bath, give me my clothes."

And in utter silence the girl rapidly donned her garments.

A plainly tailored white voile gown was forthcoming and Bunny put it on, adding a necklace of small jet beads.

"Do you know where Mr. Heath is, ma'am?" said Carter, timidly, but determined to raise the question.

"No, how should I? Isn't he about?"

"No, ma'am, Herrick can't find him anywhere."

"Oh, he's around somewhere, of course. No, I don't want any more coffee. Where is—is Mrs. Heath?"

"Oh, ma'am, she's in the stujo—she's—"

"Never mind, Carter, I'll go down now."

Bunny went slowly downstairs, pausing on every step.

Just as she reached the lounge, Dr. Conklin entered. He was a brisk, alert sort of person, with sharp, penetrating eyes and a quick jerkiness of movement.

Though he had turned toward the studio, he paused at sight of Bunny, and looked at her inquiringly.

"Belong here, do you?" he said shortly.

"I am a guest of the Heaths," Bunny returned, a little brusque, because she was not accustomed to such abrupt manners.

"Oh, you are. Where is Mr. Heath? What am I wanted for, anyway?"

Herrick, who had admitted the doctor, said, respectfully: "If you will come this way, sir."

He led the way to the studio, and Dr. Conklin walked in silence after him.

Bunny followed, timidly, and with hesitating steps.

She saw the doctor pause suddenly, as he reached the studio door, and clench his hands, while his face took stood at the mirror with a hard-boiled look on your face, admiring yourself, or —pretended you were gazing into a shop window when you were really straightening your new tie, or —treated your shoes to a wonderful shine when they didn't exactly need it, or —endeavored to nurse a budding mustache into luxuriant bloom, or —gone up in smoke when the women folks raved about Jack Barrymore,

—if you've never done any of these things, then you won't get much kick out of coming into our store.

Every tie, sock and collar button we have has been chosen for its ability to improve a man's good looks. There's nothing here, in fact, that doesn't appeal to a man's hidden vanity. We choose things for fine quality, of course — but everything we have—hats, shirts, gloves—all must make a man like himself better for wearing them!

If by chance you DO have a little masculine vanity in your nature—a secret urge toward yellow and orange striped ties, purple garters with triple grips—come in and see what's here. You'll have the time of your life.

P. S. Speaking of looks, don't miss our new Fall display of Society Brand Clothes. They're the finest looking clothes we've ever seen.

Who Pays for Our Advertising ?

Four months ago we started our consistent advertising in the newspaper. During these four months our business has increased more than 30 per cent. Allowing ourselves the same profit on each quart of milk as we allowed ourselves prior to the time we began advertising, has more than paid our advertising bills. A large number of customers on each street means less overhead.

Who pays for our advertising? We don't! You don't! The man who does not advertise pays for it—he pays for it in less volume; he pays for it in higher overhead; he pays for it in business that might have been his.

This ACID TEST Proves The Value of Prosperity Mineral Feeds

BE sure that you get the full value from minerals. They must be palatable, readily digestible, and contain the necessary elements in the right proportions. Digestible minerals don't need fillers and laxatives.

Ask your veterinarian to show you the Comparative Acid Test pictured here. Prosperity Mineral Feeds are almost wholly soluble and show clear in the tube. The solid part remaining in the cloudy tube is conclusive proof of the low digestibility of the poorer Mineral mixtures.

In Prosperity Mineral Feeds you pay for digestible and necessary elements. A mixture for each kind of stock. They save feed and time, and increase profits.

From page 8 of "OILING" SINCLAIR'S NEW HELP-BOOKLET for MOTORISTS:
The biggest job
your lubricating oil does is to fill, to seal this constantly enlarging space between the cylinder walls and the pistons. And—naturally—you must use a lubricating oil just heavy enough to fill that space.
The Sinclair Recommendation Index tells you just what grade of lubricating oil to use at each stage of your engine's wear in order to seal the increasing space between your cylinder walls and pistons.
As the size of the space increases the grade of lubricating oil must be changed. It must have, at all times, exactly the right body to fit this space and seal it, to give you maximum power and compression, with minimum friction, minimum carbon, and minimum seepage of unexploded gasoline down into the lubricating oil in your crankcase.

GRAHAM NEWS.

Mrs. Ed Cole entertained a few young men at supper and a slumber party Monday night in honor of the birthday anniversary of Dale Swartz. After supper the party motored to Maryville and visited the swimming pool and attended a show. Those in the party were Curtis Forcade, Dale Dorman, Harry Cole, Homer Mowry, Oren Davis and the honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Cox entertained at dinner Monday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Merrill and children, and Mrs. Mary Merrill of Kansas City. Additional guests were Mrs. Louise Bleich, Ed Bleich and Clark Harmon.

Vern Cox, James Kaiser and Roy Ashworth motored to Clarinda, Ia., Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Daise and family and Mr. and Mrs. James Ungles and family motored to St. Joseph Tuesday and spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blagg, who were recently married, have been spending a part of their honeymoon at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Blagg.

Chas. Hall, who has been living on the Dr. Campbell farm, south of Graham, for some time, moved his household goods to St. Joseph Wewnesday, where he and his family will reside.

Maryville's Rainfall Heaviest in State

Total Here for Week Ending Tuesday Was 7.89 Inches.—Too Little Sun for Best Crop Growth.

Missouri's weather during the week which ended Tuesday was mostly favorable for farming interests in the southern half of the state, but it was too cloudy and wet in the central and northern sections, where rain fell on the first five days, according to the weekly weather and crop bulletin issued by George Reeder, meteorologist at Columbia for the United States Department of Agriculture.

The rainfall at Maryville totaled 7.89 inches, the heaviest of any point in the state. The average for the state was 3.32 inches and the thirty-six year normal is .95 inch. The total state rainfall from April 1 to date is now nearly equal to the thirty-six year normal for that period.

The weekly report says:

"Temperatures for the week averaged slightly above normal although the sunshine was not more than half the usual. The rainfall was the heaviest of the season, 3.32 inches being the average for the State as a whole. In the Missouri River counties from Jackson to Warren, and in the northeast and northwest, total weekly amounts ranged from 4 to more than 7 inches, causing some of the creeks and smaller rivers to overflow.

"There has been too much rain for standing crops especially corn and sorghums. Corn is generally late, the average stage being the hard roasting ear. Drying sunshiny weather is needed to make the bulk of the crop safe from possible early frost. Some corn is down, and a small per cent in creek bottoms has been damaged by excessive water. Silo filling has begun.

"In the southeast rain was less frequent and heavy than in other sections and standing crops were more favored. Cotton, however, has made rank growth which is delaying opening of bolls, but some are open in every field; drying weather needed.

"Plowing for fall seeding is well ahead, but too wet soil has stopped the work in most sections. Pastures are fine, and all minor crops will improve with less rain and more sun and warmth. The apple crop is quite satisfactory."

Lacoste Defeated, 6-0; 6-4; 0-6; 6-0—U. S. First Won Davis Cup in 1920.

Germantown, Pa., Sept. 9. — Billy Johnston, the great little coast bantam, preserved his amazing Davis cup winning streak by beating Rene Lacoste of France in the opening singles of the championship round here this afternoon, the scores being 6-0; 6-4; 0-6; 6-0.

France and America has clashed for the possession of the historic Davis cup, emblem of the world's tenis championship and the most widely sought trophy in international sport.

The United States has won annual possession of the cup since taking it from Australia in 1920 by virtue of six straight victories over the challenges of Australia, Japan and France but this year for the first time tennis observers were disposed to see a serious threat in the aspirations of the youthful French team.

Tilden, Johnston, Richards and Williams, the veteran and so far invariably successful American team today faced the young French challengers Lacoste, Borah and Cochet and the veteran Brugnon. Four singles matches and one doubles match for a total of five points will be played with the championship going to the team winning the majority of points.

What Is a Diuretic?

People Are Learning the Value of Occasional Use.

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of our modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasionally, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's signed recommendations. Scarcely a community but has its representation. Ask your neighbor!

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Short covering sent grain prices to a close sharply above that of yesterday on the Board of Trade here today. Wheat led in the bulge.

The buying of nearly a million bushels of that grain by the East caused prices to rise over 2 cents. Offerings were light and it was necessary to bid for the wheat.

The close was 1⅛ to 1⅜ above yesterday's final figure. Cash values were 1 to 1½ higher.

Corn had a strong opening because of the rain over Illinois and Indiana. However, reports of large stocks on the farms and the late weakness in wheat were bearish features and caused a reaction. The close was 3-8 to ½ cent over yesterday. Cash prices were 1c higher.

Damage to oats in the shock was offset by the large stocks of old grain at terminal points so this grain was influenced in the main by the trend of other pits. The close was from unchanged to 3-8 higher. The cash article sold half cent higher.

Lard closed higher on the strength of the hog and commission house buying.

TWO WOMEN PRAISE SAME MEDICINE

Both Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"After the birth of my little daughter I was very badly run-down. I could not think of going to a hospital, but grew steadily worse, being compelled to stay in bed two or three days each week. A friend of my sister's told of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done her, and my sister bought me two bottles of it. I had not taken all of one bottle when I was up and able to do some work. I am truly a booster for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use my testimonial."—Mrs. Mayme Lynch, 1119 Island Ave., Ext., McKee's Rocks, Pa.

Mrs. Hope L. Smith, a farmer's wife of Route 3, Floyd, Va., says she was ill for ten years with a good deal of pain in her side and so weak she could hardly work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped her so much she is telling her friends about it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine.

Speaking League Organized Here

Six Maryville Students Have Met Requirements For Membership In National Forensic League.

A branch of the National Forensic League, an honor society for public speakers of comparatively high ranking has been organized at the Maryville High School. Membership in the League is established by points given to students placing in contests held in other than the local high school.

Contests in which points toward membership in the League are given including speaking and declamation.

Six Maryville students have met the necessary requirements, four now being in high school and two were graduated from high school last May. They are: Edwyna Forsyth, Ralph Graves, Ruth Hammond, Mildred Wiles, Marvin Shamberger and Neva Wilkerson.

Degrees of Merit, Honor, Excellence and Distinction are awarded according to the number of points obtained Miss Forsyth is the only member who has received the degree of Distinction and has been awarded a gold emblem. One hundred points were required for the degree and Miss Forsyth's public speaking accomplishments have given her twenty points more than are necessary for the degree attained.

Ralph Graves has been granted a degree of Excellence with award of a silver pin.

The debating coach and former speaking coach who are entitled to membership in the League are Mrs. Vern Manley, Miss Augusta Quell and Miss Francis Holiday.

Film Flash Stops Theater's Matinee

Rush Trip To St. Joseph Brings New One To The Missouri In Time For One Night Show.

A break in the film during the first matinee at the new Missouri Theater yesterday afternoon caused a flare up in the projection room which damaged one reel of the feature picture and necessitated a postponement of the performance.

Some of the audience became alarmed at the flash, but it was confided to the fire-proof projection booth and there was no damage except to the film.

In order not to disappoint patrons at the night show, a new film was ordered immediately from Kansas City, and an automobile was hurried to St. Joseph to meet it. In spite of muddy roads, the trip was made in fast time and the evening screening began at 8:25 o'clock before the largest audience since the theater was opened.

Maurice ("Buster") Strong was the driver of the car sent to St. Joseph, and he was accompanied by J. Ray Cook. The trip to St. Joseph was made in one hour and forty-five minutes and the return in five minutes less.

The matinee patrons disappointed yesterday will be admitted at the matinee Saturday or next Wednesday, it was announced.

While the damaging of the film caused a severe financial loss, the management was much pleased at the demonstration of the effectiveness of the theater's safety features.

The same picture, "The Waning Sex," starring Norma Shearer and Conrad Nagel, will be shown tonight.

Jewish New Year Celebrated Today

Year 5687 Ushered in, Starting At Sundown Wednesday—Festivities Held In Cities.

Mail clerks at the Maryville post office were not burdened with greeting cards, holiday gifts and new calendars today but nevertheless a new year has been ushered in—for the Jews at least. Resh Hashenah, the Jewish New Year, celebrations were started yesterday evening at sundown and in many cities festivities are being held for the year 5687.

No one but daughter Milly and that Jones boy were sitting up last night when the New Year really came in and they were not interested in any Yiddish celebrations. However, many a David and Rebecca last night did start the observance of the holidays. The Orthodox Jews celebrate for two days while those of the Reformed Church celebrate only today.

Should you receive a card with the inscription, "L'Shous Tabeh Tikkeseb" translate it as meaning, "Mayest Thou Be Inscribed For A Happy New Year," and let it go at that for income tax blanks will not be made out for some time to come.

Hogs From Nodaway County Top Market

J. F. Sturm, Nodaway county farmer-feeder, had the honor of topping the St. Joseph hog market Wednesday when he disposed of a carload at $13.75. Included in the shipment were 74 head of choice 192-pound butchers that went to Armour and Co. They were of the Chester White breed. Mr. Sturm accompanied the shipment to market and expressed himself as being very well pleased with the sale.

Fletcher Dalby, another Nodaway countian, was at the market Tuesday with two loads of 975-pound steers that sold at $9.85.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Manning and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Murray of Harmony were in Maryville today.
